The ImageMakers Creative Vision Series

The Creative Vision Series is a photography guest lecture series sponsored by the ImageMakers in order to accomplish the following two objectives:

- Bring to the ImageMakers members the very best examples of current fine art photographic images being produced, including work that may be experimental or innovative in nature.
- Give the ImageMakers members an opportunity to discuss and explore the guest lecturer's source, and the nature, of his/her creative vision. The purpose of this goal is to encourage each ImageMakers member to continually consider, and become aware, that there is an inner source for their creative vision, as they practice fine art photography.

The Creative Vision Series is intended to be an ongoing continuous program of 20-30 minute guest lectures, although it may not be programmed for each monthly meeting. It is intended to remind our members that one of our functions as fine art photographers is to constantly keep a focus on our own creative vision and its source. As we gradually develop a clearer understanding of the source of our own vision, we will be better able to develop and enhance our camera work and enjoyment of fine art photography.
